Loving minds ♥ hearts ♥ hands.

Dear Parents/Carers,

As we move into our second half term of Home Learning we appreciate how challenging it can be for many families and we will continue to set weekly tasks via the home learning page on the school website. These will be varied and cover a range of subjects and interests so that children are engaged in a variety of ways. We also wanted to share with you a new resource that has been launched today.

Oak National Academy - an online platform which provides video lessons at all age ranges and activities to follow up with. They also provide a suggested schedule which could help with establishing a routine and guide as to how much to do each day. The link is below:

BBC Bitesize has also launched a range of programmes and activities today, the link to this:

During this time it is about finding a system that works best for you and your family and keeping it interesting for the children as much as possible. Class teachers may direct you to certain parts of the site but you can also use it to follow the interests of your child.

If you need help with any aspects of home learning please contact class teachers via email at schoolcommunication@st-ambrose.manchester.sch.uk
