Purple Mash BIG QUESTION

Each week on Purple Mash a Big Question will be asked for children to respond to with their opinions. This week's question was 'Should anyone be allowed to buy a pet?' Most children replied saying that they should because pets can help adults and be good companions. Some children responded by saying that people should be checked first to see if they are able to look after a pet. This week's big question is: How do soldiers help us in times of need? We look forward to reading your responses on Purple Mash Also, remember to click 'hand in' when doing 'to do's'.
